

rare Goossens

recordings by Léon Goossens

These are all recordings not available elsewhere, and they show Goossens in rare form. His ability to float a phrase is evident throughout, in performances ranging from a 1925 pre-electric recording of Charles Colin's endearing Concertino, to a 1947 Concerto reworking Scarlatti themes.

There is an important reissue of the 1927 Bax Quintet (written for Goossens), and a number of miniatures such as the Londonderry Air, at which he excelled.

Cat No CC2005

Bar Code 5023581200527

The download version has an introduction to Goossens' early years. The CD version has a 24-page booklet with an extended essay by Melvin Harris on Goossens and his music, in English, French and German, with many photos. More details are at www.oboeconcerts.com/Goossens.htm.

oboe image
courtesy Howarth
of London

Goossens c1934

photo Peggy Delius

"Historic recording of Léon Goossens, a great oboist caught in his prime" John Warrack, Gramophone

"A reissue of the 1927 Bax quintet is the centrepiece of this enterprising disc ... but one reminder of the British oboist's wonderfully eloquent gifts." Anthony Holden, Observer

"A collection of early recordings by Léon Goossens ... includes numerous examples of his Kreisler-like way with lighter music, and a wonderfully rhapsodic 1927 account of the Bax Quintet." Anthony Burton, BBC Music Magazine

"Woodwind specialists as well as Baxians will want to snap up this lovingly compiled and presented disc." Rob Barnett, MusicWeb International

"This is a fine after-dinner wine of a recording, worth listening to at leisure, without interruption, so as to marvel over the extraordinary facility and exquisite taste of one of the finest instrumentalists of any age." Barry Brenesal, Fanfare (USA)